SUBJECT: Notification on Anticipated Gallon Jug Lid Liner Shortages

Dear partners,

As we all continue to incur operational challenges resulting from the lingering pressures that winter storms Uri and Viola in Texas and the Gulf Coast region have had on the world's resin supply, we are informing customers of resulting lid liner shortages in our materials network. This will unfortunately limit our production ability on our rigid gallon jug lines in the near future.

While we are partnering closely with all our material suppliers to identify alternate sourcing solutions for these resin-based components, at this point it is inevitable that we are going to experience some level of supply disruption due to these constraints. We apologize that the delayed notice we received from our vendor has reduced the amount of advanced warning we are able to share with you.

The purpose of this communication is to make you aware of this specific challenge that our material supplier is experiencing and share the list of our SKUs that will likely experience some form of sporadic outages in the near future as a result. Please be assured that we do not have any capacity concerns on this line – and once the material constraints are relieved, we will resume regular production.

To minimize disruption during these times we plan to implement some portfolio simplification measures to ensure as much supply continuity on the highest volume SKUs. We will also be increasing production on SKUs in non-impacted packaging formats that could serve as possible substitutes.

Our teams and suppliers are committed to working as quickly as possible to mitigate the impact of these resin challenges while exploring all available measures to ensure supply continuity. Our sales team will be reaching out to discuss interim solutions we can offer on other formats to support your business needs during this period of time.

We remain committed to providing transparent communication and appreciate your partnership as we look to overcome these challenges as quickly as possible.

Best regards,

Peter Hall President, U.S. Away From Home
