RE: PB+J Production Update

We appreciate your patience during our product shortages over the past few months due to our continued supply chain issues and labor challenges.

Due to these issues, we have made the difficult decision to cease PB+J operations for the balance of the 2022-23 school year.

We appreciate the business we've mutually built over the past few years. It is our intent to relocate our manufacturing facility and re-start the business for SY 23-24. Thank you for your support and patience during these tough times.
